What others say about her writing...

"Each reflection designed to be read in five minutes, can be an answer to an exhausted moms' "SOS" on a weary day. Whether anticipating a first child, already changing diapers, arguing about the car keys, or "enjoying" the empty nest...all moms (and not a few dads!) will laugh, cry, and nod in recognition as they read...and reread...this beautiful book." -- Jack Hager, Editor, Family Life Journal

"Quite simply, one of the best parenting books I have ever read. Genuine, relevant, spiritual. Elaine Miller captures the essence of motherhood and shares her experiences in a way that it feels like it was written by your closest friend." -- Karen Slusser, mother of three

What others say about her speaking...

"We can't thank you enough for your willingness to lead us this weekend. You are so down to earth with a heavenly perspective. I know it was because of your vulnerability that our women opened up so much Saturday evening. You, through Christ, have taken us to another level. We love you."

"It was wonderful having you at our retreat... Your testimony was a HUGE, BEAUTIFUL BLESSING... Thank you for loving Jesus. He is at home in your heart and I could hear him speaking clearly through you..."

"I just want you to know that you have really touched my life and brought a new depth to my relationship with the Lord. There are two things especially I have learned from you. One is to fix my eyes on Jesus and not on other Christians.... The second thing you have taught me is to deny self..."
